GATHERED TOGETHER FOR FUTURE CAREFUL CONSIDERATION.

Opinions as to the Roots of the Recent Tidal Wave and Cyclonic Disturbances—“What Was the Hardest Hit?”

TARIFF PICTURES.

For the three months ending June 30th, 1892, the United States exported reapers and mowers to the value of $651,833.

For the corresponding period in 1890 we exported these implements to the amount of $114,442.

—New York Press.

It is worth while to paste this paragraph in your hat. It is clipped from the recent message of President Harrison to Congress:

It is not for my purpose to renew here the argument in favor of a Protective Tariff. The result of the recent election must be accepted as having introduced a new policy. We must assume that the present Tariff, constructed upon the lines of Protection, is to be repealed, and that there is to be substituted for it a Tariff more or less constructed solely with reference to revenue; that no duty is to be higher because the threshes will keep open an American mill or keep up the wages of an American workman; but that in every case, such a rate of duty is to be imposed as will bring the Treasury of the United States the largest returns of revenue.

The contention has not been between schedules, but between principles, and it would be offensive to suggest that the prevailing party will not carry into legislation the principles carried by it and the pledges given to the people.

The recent outbreak of collegiate misbehavior at New Haven is one of the most disgraceful exhibitions of the kind in recent years. It may seem the height of exquisite humor to a certain type of college student to break up theatrical performances, maltreat and insult defenseless women and boot at the guardians of the peace; but it might prove a benefit to these apocryphally funny fellows to realize the fact that decent people everywhere regard their behavior as unmitigated ruffianism. The police authorities of New Haven ought to possess sufficient backbone to capture and punish every ringleader in the recent riot if they can obtain evidence enough to convict him. The fact that a majority of the offenders were young men of excellent families and respectable home training makes their brutality all the more inexcusable.

The Globe of Durham, N. C., undoubtedly expresses the sentiment of the Southern Bourbons when it declares that “the pensions now paid to the Union soldiers should be reduced at least two-thirds,” and adds that “more than one-half of the so-called soldiers who are drawing pensions to-day are thieves and beggars who never saw a battle, never smelt real powder and never served their country.” The Globe goes to declare, in language which has been unfamiliar since Uncle Ben day, that “the miserable scum and broth of hell should not be compensated for the ruin which they wrought.”

And The New York Press adds that all this is interesting. It must be especially interesting to any Union veteran who was misled into voting for the Democratic nominees at the recent election, and it should be of interest to all citizens who look back with pride and gratitude to the great and successful struggle for the Nation’s life. Such utterances gave painful and ominous evidence that the spirit of disloyalty and hatred of the Union and the Union’s defenders is far from being subdued in the South. It has been quiet, while the Republicans were in partial or entire control of the Government; but now that the Democrats are about to return to the power from which they were hurried in disgrace thirty-two years ago, the old hatred of the Northern veterans breaks out among Southern Bourbons bitter as ever, not because they are pensioners, but because they were Union soldiers.

The evidence of what Democratic rule means for the Nation is rapidly accumulating. Hardly a month has yet passed since the election, and already the veterans of the Union, and the cause for which they fought, are being assailed with a bitterness that proves how little many ex-Confederates have learned and how little they have forgotten.

PERSONAL

If you have friends residing here, or if you are going on a visit, please drop us a note to let us know.

Frank Devine was in Winchester last week.

M. S. Dimmitt came in Saturday night from a commercial tour.

W. H. Harris the gas man was here from Washington City Saturday.

Mrs. Dr. Samuel Pangburn returned Friday from a visit of several weeks in Chicago.

Squire S. H. Bettis and wife were in the city Saturday, en route to their new home in Newport.

Walker M. Baughman received a telegram Saturday afternoon calling him to his home at Circleville, O.

Miss Ella Allen of Washington, Pa., is the guest of the family of her uncle, Colonel C. A. Simmons, at Aberdeen.

TWO KINDS OF MEN.

Has there ever been a time to say, “About you, whether fact or fable, And says it to me, many a way.”

But everybody hates the sneak Who goesups like a chuckling gie, And says, “For God’s sake, if you speak Of this, don’t say it came from me.” —Milwaukee Journal.

The unexplored area of Canada is 1,000,000 square miles.

This population of America, increases by 7,000 persons a day.

Krueger’s great gun-works at Essen consume 1,000 tons of coal and coke a day.

Joseph C. Ewings dropped dead at Harrodsburg. He was a soldier of the Mexican War.

W. P. Conn & Co., grocers, burned out at Allensville, with a loss of $2,000, covered by insurance.

G. T. Neal of Elizabethtown writes to Postmaster Davis to know if Thomas Neal lives in Maysville.

Coleman Lewis Wilson, Chief of Police of Cincinnati thirty years ago, died a few days ago at Maineville.

J. Burton Russell, aged 61, died at Corning, N. Y., from cigarette smoking, after three hours illness. Part your name in the middle, boys, and buy a fresh package of poison.

Jay Gould was rich enough to give every man, woman and child in the United States a gold dollar, and then left more money than he could ever hope to spend. The idea of doing this, however, probably never suggested itself seriously to Mr. Gould.

The rooms of the First National Bank are now heated by fuel gas of Maysville manufacture. There are several stoves and “radiators” of different makes, the object being to decide upon the best. It looks like success, and if it proves true will be a boon to housekeepers.

Walker M. Baughman, who has been the local manager of Washington Opera-house for several months, recently sold his home at Circleville, O. During his stay here Mr. Baughman made many warm friends, whose best wishes accompany him wherever his lot may be cast.

Mrs. Margaret E. Rogers died near Winchester, O., aged 111. She was born in Philadelphia in 1781 and married in 1799. Her husband died in 1840. Mrs. Rogers weighed only eighty-four pounds, and almost up to the time of her death was as active as a woman of 40. She has several children living, all of whom are quite old. She had 44 grandchildren, 200 great-grandchildren and 97 great-great-grandchildren.

Govinda Brown is a much “bigger” man in the Kentucky Legislature. The Court of Appeals, headed by a Republican, has sustained him in his position on this opinion on legislation, the votes are sustained, and the position of the Committee on Address, and even that of the Auditor is entirely, eternally and completely knocked out. It is now settled that Kentucky will not be represented at Chicago unless through private enterprise. A few more Legislatures like the present one, and Kentucky will be a good place to move away from.

The “Epsworth League” of Mt. Oliver sends Words of Encouragement.

The Lomans is in receipt of the following which explains itself:

Mr. OLIVER, Ky., December 9th, 1892.

Public Ledger—Maysville, Ky.: The Epsworth League of Mt. Oliver takes great pleasure in sending you a copy of the “Epsworth League Society of Maysville,” to be used in returning the N. E. Church, South, so recently and unfortunately impaired by fire.

J. H. WOOD, President.

W. C. Denning, Secretary.

The check was promptly transferred to the Treasurer of the Ladies’ Mite Society, who acknowledges its receipt in terms of thankfulness to the generous donors in the annexed letter.

Thomas A. Davis, Editor Public Ledger—Dear Sir: Allow me to acknowledge, through you the receipt of $5.00, the contribution of the Epsworth League of Mt. Oliver, toward the formation of a school lost by fire, and to express our very sincere thanks for this kindly help; and being made up of the aggregation of small amounts, I trust it will go far to express our thanks for the honest and helpful efforts of the members of the Epsworth League, whose spirit of kindness that makes us thin skin and leagues us together for better things. Very respectfully, Mrs. L. W. McGAIRTH, Treasurer, Ladies’ Mite Society.

The actual loss incurred by the Sanger-Iron Roofing Company of Cincinnati by their disastrous fires stated to be $35,000 in stock and machinery, $8,000 in patterns, cuts, etc., $90,000 in building, on which there was a total of $90,000 insurance. There was no insurance on the valuable personal property of Miss Margaret Lloyd.

ABOUT 7 o’clock Saturday evening a fellow calling himself Joe Brown, claiming Cleveland as his home, entered a laundry office on Fourth street, Cincinnati, and made the young lady in charge shall out the money she had. Then he stepped outside, the young lady gave an alarm, and a couple of citizens collared the thief. They made him refund the money and then marched him to the lock-up.

JUDGE FARNIS of the Probate Court at Cincinnati performed one of the most painful duties of his life when he found his old Pastor, Rev. J. R. Baumer, a prominent Baptist preacher, derelict as Administrator of the Craig estate. After reprimanding him the Judge fined him $9,700 and compound interest on $30,000 for four years. Mr. Baumer’s offense was that he was not only a contempt of Court in the shape of a breach of trust and refusal to give an account of his interest fund.

EVANIEIGHTIERS are at least a dozen colored women of bad repute who prowl the principal streets of the city with undaunted boldness, and several decent ladies have been invaded by them. Their victims of course are black-colored, which suggests that the former piece of abode was Pittsburgh.

These women have become an eye-sore and a stomach-turner to respectable people, and if they are not molested by the police the citizens should treat them to a river bath or a coat of tar and use a goose for bathing down. The latter remedy would be the better, as the former might have a tendency to lengthen their miserable existence. It is gratifying to know, however, that the weather will put an end to their outdoor maneuverings, as their wardrobe is too scanty for them to enjoy the bracing atmosphere.

SQUIRE JOHN E. WELLS is very ill at Maysville.

Farmers come fifteen miles to my store to get Chamberlain’s Cough Remedy.

Many of them, like myself, are never without it in their homes.

I cured my boy of a severe attack of crupp and I believe saved his life.—Dalton, Kansas.

This remedy is a certain cure for crupp, and it used as soon as the first symptoms appear, will prevent the attack. For sale by Power & Reynolds, Drugists.

Lively Scene at a Notorious Wedding.

The Rev. Mr. S. M. Martin of the Christian Church, who has been evangelizing in this state for some time, is now in the sixth week of his meeting in the Tabernacle erected at Cynthiana for his benefit.

During the meeting he has been very sermonsous in his attacks on the other religious denominations.

Friday night the Rev. C. C. Cox, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, was present when Mr. Martin made a statement that the former did not like.

Mr. Cox sprang to his feet and told Mr. Martin that he knew (Martin) was telling an untrue story, very caustic language, exchanged.

Mr. Martin told Mr. Cox that he was not responsible for his lack of brains, for Mr. Cox has made many friends by his massiveness in calling Mr. Martin to his feet and told Mr. Martin that he was a gentleman, that his congregation was composed of ladies and gentlemen, and that he demanded that they be treated as such.

The affair occurred in the Martin Tabernacle, in which there was an audience of over 1,000 persons, and it seemed as if it would precipitate a riot, but quiet was finally restored.

STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

WHAT IS GOING ON ALONG THE BEAUTIFUL OHIO RIVER.

Driftwood Gathered on Shore and Stream by the Ledger’s Weather-Beaten Old Tar and Fired Up Handily for Use.

Business was quiet about the wharf yesterday.

The James A. Blackmore succeeded in raising the barge recently sunk by her at Eight-Mile Bar.

Owen Connell, who has not steamboated for several years, is now second mate of the City of Madison.

There will not be much coal down on the present small swell owing to the fact that there is but little ready at Pittsburg for shipment.

CHINA, GLASSWARE, BRIC-A-BRAC, &c., at your own price at Thomas’ China Store on Court street.

Mrs. SAMUEL SMITH of West Third street is able to be out again after a prolonged spell of illness.

TWALVA converts of the Plymouth Baptist Church, colored, were baptized by the Pastor, Rev. Oliver Nelson, yesterday.

JAMES W. BENZER, a Clay county distiller, got $500 and six months in jail for making a false return of his whisky output to Uncle Sam.

PIERRE ROBINSON, a young colored boy, will steal no more rides on the K. C. His skull was crushed by striking a bridge near Milldale.

THE ANNUAL election of officers of Mason Lodge No. 342, F. and A. M., will take place this evening at 7 o’clock. A full attendance is desired.

EDWARD P. MCCAFFREY of Nicholasville, formerly of Mechanicville, has been called to fill the vacancy in the Pastorate of the Christian Church made vacant by the resignation of Elder C. L. Lucas.

REV. MURRAY PANGBURN, who has relatives in this county, and who was well remembered by many of our older citizens, died last Thursday at his home in Hutchins, Texas, aged about 60 years. He was formerly Pastor of the Christian Church at Mayfield, but had been a resident of Texas for many years.

Mrs. MURRAY H. RICH, wife of Edward R. Rich, died at her home in the Sixth Ward, met with a peculiar accident yesterday afternoon. She was cleaning a sewing machine with coal oil and to facilitate the cleaning concluded to burn out some of the dirt. She applied a match and the machine was quickly in a blaze. She endeavored to smother the blaze with her apron and the result was she was painfully burned about the arms and chest.

ON THE BRINK.

An Explosion in Germany Possible at Any Moment.

The Fate of the Troublesome Military Bill Is Considered Sealed.

The Chancellor Holds Conference With the Emperor. The former will withdraw the bill if the Reichstag will not accept the resolution of the Reichstag.

BERLIN, Dec. 12.—The trouble is expected in Germany. This city talk of nothing but war. The Emperor has called a council over the army bill, owing to the attitude of the party leaders. The chancellor, Count von Bulow, the minister of war, accompanied the introduction of the bill with a long and earnest speech in its support. He declared that Germany must be prepared to enter at any moment into a general war, which would dwarf all preceding wars in the magnitude of the forces engaged and of the issues to be decided.

It was imperative that every man in Germany able to bear arms should be compelled to do so. The bill was a measure of supreme necessity, and demanded no sacrifice that the patriotism of the nation should be unwilling to grant, and no sacrifice greater than that other nations were making in proportion to their own struggle that might at any time begin.

It was in obedience to the supreme need of preparing Germany for that struggle that the bill had been prepared, and the government hoped and believed that it would meet with the support of every one interested in maintaining the integrity of the fatherland, and in defending those advantages which it had cost so much of German blood to gain.

The war minister described at length the aims of the bill and showed that every effort had been made to make the burden as light as a prudent regard for the security of the country and efficiency of the army would permit. The bill was favorably received and the utterances of Gen. Von Kaltenborn-Stachau in regard to the almost certainty of a great European war at an early date evidently produced a profound sensation, as confirming the predictions of Chancellor Caprivi on the same subject.

MINERS UNEASY.

Low Mettling Presses Troubles in the Monongahela Valley Coal District.

PIRRE, Dec. 12.—The miners continuing to coal on the present rise to the southern markets has excited unusual activity in the Monongahela valley coal district. The striking miners have been very quiet and offered very little resistance to the miners who reported into the district to take the places of the old men, but with the greater demand and necessity for coal to be mined, it is evident a change will come.

Within the past week a large number of miners have reported for work and the reports say the miners are becoming uneasy.

To prevent any trouble, some of the operators have asked for deputy sheriffs to guard the new men, so that several of them now work in the Monongahela City to be sent to the Cincinnati mines near Courtney. The striking miners are endeavoring to persuade the new men to quit work, and are greatly encouraged by their success.

Dever Mine Exhausted.

PIRRE, Dec. 12.—Since silver fever has come on here it has been closing, and almost every day a report is received of some property, large or small, discharging metal. There are hundreds of mines not being worked. Many of them are still in their original condition, but the operators are coins are coming soon and the directors have nearly $2,000,000 yet in expansion funds from which no cash has been received, so the machinery will be kept well lubricated.

Robbed the Trotter.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 12.—A School, a member of the Bryan, Schaeck & Hirst, has fled the country, leaving a shortage in his accounts with the firm and clients of about $20,000. When last heard from he was in New Orleans.

He was a prominent member of the Hebrew society in Chicago. Extravagant living, it is said, led to his downfall. Before leaving he assigned some of his assets to those of his clients who could least afford the loss of the money.

It is believed that he has important connections in the financial circles of the company, and that it would be a good stroke of policy to release him.

Cotton Shippers' Steaming Line.

AGUADILLA, Dec. 12.—W. C. Hilton, agent for Barber & Co., New York, is in Aguadilla to arrange with cotton shippers to put on a line of steamers to Liverpool, Rio Janeiro, Liverpool, Rio Janeiro, and Havre. Arrangements have been made with the seaboard air line for freight rates to Wilmington, the same as the rates to the ports of Charleston, Savannah, giving Aguadilla additional ports—Savannah, Charleston, Port Royal, Wilmington, and Norfolk.

Pressured by Coal Gas.

LIMA, Dec. 12.—Coal gas escaped from a stove at Frederick Herold's residence in amounts that severed the limbs of the family. The gas was not detected until one of the family awoke terribly ill. He succeeded in arousing the others, with the exception of the two daughters, who were unconscious. Prompt medical attention was given, and the youngest daughter is critically ill and may die.

Rector Ahwartz's Rescues.

TEHRAN, Dec. 12.—The Telegraph's Berlin correspondent says that Rector Ahwartz was condemned to one month's imprisonment for libeling the Shah in a speech on Tuesday. He was placed in solitary confinement for two months for the calumny against the gun makers, but the court accepted the plea of non-malice and reduced the sentence from seven to five months, with costs which are estimated at $2,000.

A Monk-keeper's Dowlash.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Alfred J. Price, book-keeper for Street & Smith, publishers of the New York Weekly, has pleaded guilty to larceny in the first degree, and will be sentenced to the penitentiary for five years. Price committed a series of embezzlements by which the firm lost about $5,000.

A Missing Girl.

NORWALK, Ct., Dec. 12.—Miss Julia H. Bowler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Bowler, who has been in the Kingman pony-trotting team for 35 years, has disappeared, and the whole town, headed by Rev. Mr. Bowler, of the Methodist church, and the girl's father, has organized and is searching the woods and adjoining towns.

New York Has Freezing Train.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—W. Jay Gould does not have to be fined for three months but there are already rumors afloat. Gould is said to have given large amounts to his son-in-law, George W. Whitney, election as president of the Manhattan instead of Jay Gould's.
